SHOOTING DISCUSSION

Mr. Steven, president of the Fin, Fur and Feather Club of Mattapoissett, met with Selectmen to discuss a shooting complaint concerning early Sunday morning shots from the vicinity of the club. Mr. Steven said the club membership was aware of the illegal shooting on the 16th of September by people from Fall River who were using the range without the knowledge and permission of the club. The club membership chased out the intruders when they became aware of the shooting. Mr. Steven also mentioned that shooting in an adjacent gravel pit is not connected with the Fin, Fur & Feather Club. The complaint about the Sunday shooting was received by the Selectmen's office on September 18th. No complaint of this nature has occurred in five years. No specific complaint has been received about the gravel pit shooting which is done with the permission of the owners of the pit.

DEAD ELM REMOVAL REQUEST

Mrs. Helen Bettencourt of 44 North Street requested October 8th that the town remove a dead elm tree in the front yard of her property. Selectmen, in an October 18th reply, advised Mrs. Bettencourt that they have asked John Denham, Mattapoisett Superintendent of Insect Pest Control, to investigate this matter and recommend appropriate action. Mr. Denham will also determine if the tree is located on town property. When he reports, the Selectmen will advise Mrs. Bettencourt.

FLOOD INSURANCE ACTION

The Board of Selectmen has written Mr.
Patrick W. Ryan, president of the Crescent
Beach Improvement Association, on October 18th to acknowledge Mr. Ryan's letter of October 11th and a petition signed by a number of Crescent Beach residents who registered their interest in Flood Insurance protection. They said that the Flood Insur-tend their deadline to allow Mattapoisett to officially comply with HUD regulations. Unofficially, the town has been advised that this deadline has been extended until the Annual Town Meeting in May 1974.

Mr. George Evans, chairman of the Flood Insurance Committee, has been asked to work with the Mattapoisett Zoning Committee and Building Inspector to develop proposed Flood Plain Zoning and Building Regulations to submission to the Annual Town Meeting for approval.

The Selectmen expressed the hope that the effort will prove successful.

FISHING RESTRICTION

The Board of Selectmen has advised George Henshaw, Wharf Commissioner, that they have no objection to his restricting areas of the town wharf to fishermen. Recent fishing from the length of the boat slips has resulted in bait being scattered the length of the wharf and into private boats.

Mr. Henshaw will post signs on the wharf advising fishermen of the proper location to fish.

VOLUNTEERS THANKED

The Board of Selectmen wrote October 18th to the Volunteer First Aid & Diving Team Inc. of Acushnet to thank them for volunteering their diving services to be called upon in times of emergency or disaster. The Selectmen said that they will inform the various interested town departments of the offer.

GROIN O.K.

Selectmen have informed Mr. Morgan R. Ress of the Army Corps of Engineers that the town has no objection to the issuance of a permit for a stone groin maintenance at Brandt Beach. The Brandt Beach Improvement Association has submitted the application for the permit to maintain the groin.

TRAILER RULE

Selectmen have advised Mr. Daniel Matson on October 19th that his trailer located on Angelica Point may be moved to and from the Matson property provided that it was moved in that way prior to November 20, 1967. Otherwise the trailer must remain just as it did at that time. The Selectmen reminded Mr. Matson that the trailer may not be replaced with a new, larger model without Board of Appeals approval.

OLD COLONY VOKE GRANT

Mr. John T. Oliveira, superintendent director Old Colony Vocational Technical High School District, has written Selectman Donald Linhares that on September 17, 1973 the Old Colony was notified by the Division of Occupational Education of the intent to award the District a 10% Federal Construction Assistance grant of up to an estimated $525,000.00.

Mr. Oliveira said that the length and detail process necessary to establish eligibility for the grant could not have been possible without the encouragement and advice of Mrs. Blanche Perry, Mrs. Evelyn Pursley and Mr. Bernard Talty of the Mattapoisett Old Colony Voke Committee. He said that the final decision on the grant was made by Dr. Charles Buzzell and Dr. John Manning of the Division of Occupational Education.

Mr. Oliveira said that he would be grateful if the Board of Selectmen would send a note of acknowledgement to these men for easing the financial burden associated with the construction of the Old Colony facility.

SAFETY RULES FOR PEDAL PUSHERS

SAFE BICYCLE RIDERS observe the rules of the road. Biking with friends? Drive single file; don't hog the road.

NEW YORK (ED)—More Americans are on the road today, but they're leaving their cars at home. The newest pleasure vehicle is that old favorite, the bicycle. There are 75 million bike enthusiasts pedaling some 53 million bikes, and they're not all children. Biking is great exercise, and it's fun, too. But you have to follow safety rules, and drive a well-built, well-maintained bike. Remember the following points:

- ¶ Observe traffic signals. When the light is red, stop.
- ¶ Biking with friends? Don't hog the road. Drive in single file.
- ¶ Keep to the right. Don't weave in and out of traffic.
- ¶ Look out for turning cars, opening car doors.
- ¶ Don't drive at night without a headlight and a tail-light/reflector.
- ¶ Remember the pedestrian has the right of way.
- ¶ Choose a bike that displays the BMA/6 sign. This shows it was made by a member of the Bicycle Manufacturers Association according to rigid specifications for strength and durability.
- ¶ Buy a bike that fits the rider. A National Safety Council report says "the child riding a bicycle that is too large is involved in more accidents."

¶ Have a serviceman check your bike twice a year. Handlebars, tires and wheels, pedals, seat and coaster brake need periodic adjustment.

STREET LIGHT REQUEST

Mr. Clarence Verdi has requested from the Board of Selectmen that a street light be installed on a pole located on his lot on Ocean Drive. The Board of Selectmen replied October 11th that the town cannot install a street light on private property. They said that if Mr. Verdi can locate a pole in the vicinity that is on public property he can petition the town meeting for a street light. The other alternative is for Mr. Verdi to install the light on his pole at his own expense to which the town has no objection.
DEADLINES

The heads of all town departments, committees, boards and commissions have been notified of deadlines for material to be included in the town report, annual warrant and budgets. The deadlines are as follows: annual town reports (Selectmen's Office), January 10, 1974; articles for 1974 warrant (Selectmen's office), January 1, 1974; budgets for fiscal 1975 (Town Accountant), December 21, 1973; acceptance of new streets (Selectmen's office), December 1,

Rochester's Recipes

HISTORICAL SOCIETY COOKBOOK

The Cookbook Committee of the Rochester Historical Society, Mrs. Edward Florindo, Mrs. Ralph Walker and Mrs. James Gurney, have completed work on the collection of family favorites, and the book is ready for distribution. A year of collecting, editing, copying, and, most important (and most fun), testing, has resulted in a high quality, spiral bound book, hand-lettered, illustrated with line drawings of great charm and containing the secrets from some of the best cooks in Rochester. Many recipes date back 5 generations, a few are new but very heavy favorites, some are old, but updated for the more modern cook.

The committee is confident that theirs is a unique little book, and that the residents of "Old Rochester" will find it an attractive gift for the hostess at Thanksgiving, an aid in their own kitchen, and a treasured gift to all their female relatives at Christmas-time. Pre-publication orders, from those who have seen the work in progress, have been exceptionally encouraging. Other orders may be phoned in and delivery arranged with any committee member of organization member.

The object of this project is to swell the treasury of the Society, with the hope of one day converting an old, existing building into a museum for the Society's growing collection of artifacts. Since its organization 4 1/2 years ago, antiques and books have been

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET

The Historical Society will meet this Wednesday, October 24th, at the North Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Besse. This will be the annual meeting and election of officers. The Cookbooks will be available to the members for distribution. The chairman of the committee is hospitalized and undergoing treatment at Tobey Hospital and will soon be transferred to Deaconess Hospital. While she is unavailable, her sister, Mrs. Joseph Florindo, will take her orders for her, especially for those in the Wareham area. In the meantime, Fran (Florindo, the chairman) is feeling well and welcomes cards and letters. It is hoped that those who see the Cookbook will write her and express their thoughts about the book on which she has spent so many hours.

Unemployment Increase

INCREASE FOR UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Legislation signed last week by Governor Francis W. Sargent will increase the maximum weekly benefit rate for unemployment insurance from $86. to $90. This new maximum applies to new claims effective on or after Sunday, October 7, 1973 according to Richard C. Gilliland, Director of the Division of Employment Security.

This new legislation, when coupled with the automatic annual adjustment in the maximum benefit rate, provides for a total increase from $83 to $90 per week. Without the new law, the maximum benefit rate would only have been $86.

Under the revised Massachusetts Employment Security Law, the maximum weekly benefit will be set at 57 1/2 percent of the average weekly wage of all Massachusetts workers covered by the law. Previously, the maximum rate was equal to 55 percent of the average weekly wage.

Each individual claimant's benefit rate will continue to be computed at one-half of the average weekly wages he earned during his base period up to the $90 maximum. Fractions of a dollar are rounded up to the next whole dollar. In addition to the weekly benefit, heads of household will continue to receive an allowance of $6.00 for each dependent child under the age of eighteen up to a maximum of 50 percent of the weekly benefit rate.

The new legislation also raises the amount of wages an individual must earn before he is eligible to file a claim. Instead of the $900. previously required, minimum earnings of $1200 from covered employment during the 52 weeks prior to filing will now be necessary.

These amendments also tighten up the statutory provisions relating to individuals who voluntarily quit their jobs without any good cause attributable to their employer; who are discharged for misconduct; or who leave because of a conviction on felony or misdemeanor charges. Such individuals will now be disqualified for a period of four to eight weeks, and their total benefits will be reduced by the same number of weeks. Under prior legislation, payments to these individuals were merely deferred for a maximum of 10 weeks after which they could collect their full benefits as long as

CHOOSE CANNED PEARS FOR PEAR MINT SALAD

Canned Bartlett pears and fresh green grapes fill this delicate salad mold, boasting the refreshing flavor of mint.

A gelatine base combines the delicious pear syrup with sour cream and lemon juice. Diced canned pears and halved grapes are folded in when partially set. Creme de menthe flavors the mold and tints it a pale green. To serve, garnish with pear slices, grapes and fresh mint leaves. A fluffy lemon mayonnaise is a tasty accompaniment.

The juicy smooth texture and tree-fresh quality of canned Bartlett pears make them the perfect choice for numerous salad combinations. Their delicate flavor is complemented they met all other requirements.

This amendment only restricts benefits in cases where a person's unemployment was voluntarily initiated by his own action, Director Gilliland noted. An individual will not be penalized if he leaves one employer to accept permanent full-time employment with another in good faith, and is subsequently separated involuntarily from his new employer.

Under the revised law the so-called "pension offset" provisions will no longer be imposed on involuntarily unemployed individuals who are entitled to a pension from a base-period employer but who are still too young to qualify for their Social Security retirement benefits. These persons will now be eligible to collect full benefits in addition to their pension.

The following two examples illustrate the impact of the revisions to the Massachusetts Employment Security Law for claims filed after October 7, 1973:

Case 1. An eligible claimant whose average wages were $100 a week in his base period will continue to receive $50 per week plus $6 for each dependent child up to a limit of $75 in total. In this case there will be no change in benefits as a result of the new law.

Case 2. An individual eligible for benefits whose base period wages averaged $200 per week will now receive $90 per week plus $6 per child in dependency allowances up to a total of $135 per week. Without the new amendments, this individual would only have been eligible for benefits of $86 per week if he had no dependents and up to $129 per week with dependency allowances.

SEAT BELTS

It has been reported that if everyone wore safety belts when in a car, as many as 20,000 might be saved from death each year.

Recent hearings in the Senate Commerce Committee on the implementation of the 1966 Highway Safety Act disclosed how far we still must go to make American drivers and their cars safe on the highways.

One point of agreement did emerge during the questioning by Senators Hartke and Cook. Private industry and government officials testified that seat belts are still the most reliable and effective device for passenger protection.

Douglas Toms, who heads the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration which has been promoting air bags, or passive restraints, affirmed that seat belts would be an important continuing element in vehicle safety systems. Allstate Insurance Company's testimony, centering on its experiments with air bags, made it clear that seat belts most certainly should be required in conjunction with air bags.

It is by now clear, future technology apart, that the American people have at their fingertips an effective and proven life-saver in their seat belts. Toms has said that if seat belt use increased to 75 percent or more, air bags probably wouldn't be needed at all.

Taking into account the estimated $300 air bag add-on to new car price tags on top of the cost of government-mandated emission controls, and experts believe these are necessary, you're talking about a significant consumer pocketbook issue as well as (your own) survival in an accident.

The few seconds you take to buckle up before driving are a small investment in your life and the safety of others in your car.

STUDDS BLASTS AIR FORCE FOR RENEGING ON OTIS RETAIL AND FOOD SERVICES

"The Air Force has informed me they have broken a written commitment to me and to the people of Cape Cod and now plan to close the main retail store, the convenience store and the service station at Otis Air Force Base by early next year," Rep. Gerry E. Studds, D-Mass., announced last week.

"When the written promise to continue certain services for the military and retired residents of a given area is meaningless -- there is small wonder we feel a growing and continuing credibility gap between people and their government.

"I have now contacted the Coast Guard to urge strongly that they do everything in their power to take over as many as possible of those facilities which the Air Force has decided to close," Studds added.

The 12th District Congressman said he was informed last Wednesday that the Air Force, which plans to close the Otis Commissary by October 31st of the year, will now also close the main retail store, the convenience store and the service station "in early 1974".

"Only three months ago", Studds said, "I received a letter from Sidney D. Weiss, Deputy for Operations for the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, assuring me that the main retail store, the convenience store and the service station 'are planned to continue in operation'.

"We were working with the Air Force and Coast Guard in an attempt to save the main commissary from closing when I received the letter from William J. Sheehan, Director of the Office of Economic Adjustment in the Pentagon, informing me that now everything is to be closed.

"There are literally thousands of authorized individual on the Cape who use these facilities on a weekly basis. Over 2,000 had written to me urging my support in keeping the facilities open.

"Apparently I was naive to accept the Air Force's written assurances that they would keep the Otis facilities open," Studds said in a statement released by his office.

"I now hope that the Coast Guard will be able to take over the operation of these facilities and will continue to provide these services to the many thousand active duty personnel, retirees, and 100 percent disabled veterans who formerly counted on the Air Force to keep its word."

Heart-Healthy Recipes

AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION COOKBOOK

Now residents can go to their library and borrow the American Heart Association Cookbook, a new publication dedicated to the pleasures of eating well, while eating right. This week all libraries in The Cape and Islands Chapter area were presented with a gift copy of the heart-healthy recipes compliments of the local Heart Association.

"This book answers a long-felt need for practical dietary information," says Dr.

Grover C. Parrish, President of the Cape and Islands Chapter, Massachusetts Heart Association. "Our educational programs have stressed the need to reduce one's risk and have pointed the way. Now, we feel this book helps close the circle by providing the necessary meal plans and recipes to put our advice into practice."

The new cookbook contains more than 500 fat-controlled, low cholesterol recipes (400 basic recipes with over 100 variations) to show Americans that heart-healthy foods can be as enjoyable and satisfying as those which can contribute to premature death and disability from heart attack and stroke.

In a forward, Dr. Campbell Moses, former medical director of the American Heart Association, emphasizes that "This is not a diet book. It's a cookbook - a fun book for people who like to cook and to eat, whether they are young or old, living alone or in a family group, pursuing a career or busily involved in keeping a home."

The recipes follow two basic dietary principles recommended by the American Heart Association: cut down on eating excess fat and use more polyunsaturated fats in place of saturated fats. The recipes were Before publication, every recipe in the book was medically evaluated and kitchen tested. Additional consideration was given for taste appeal, nutrition, ease of preparation, availability of ingredients and as broad as possible representation of geographical and cultural tastes.

Multiple Sclerosis is a disabling disease of the brain and spinal cord. It attacks the substance which protects nerve fibers so that message impulses controlling functions of seeing, walking, speaking, movement and balance are distorted, sometimes even blocked. An estimated 500,000 Americans, most of them young adults between the ages of 20 and 40, have been stricken by MS and related disease in the years which should be most vital, most productive to families, communities and nation. Cause, prevention and cure remain unknown.

THE HISTORY OF HALLOWEEN

More than 2000 years ago, before Christianity came to Ireland, people used to build huge bonfires on October 31, the last day of the old pagan calendar and the day on which the souls of the dead were thought to revisit the earth. Legend had it that Samhain, god of the dead, sat by the fire to catch the approaching souls and turn them in animal form. Most wicked of the ghosts were metamorphosed into black cats.

In later time, to scare away spooks, people began hollowing out turnips and pumpkins and placed lighted candles inside to scare evil spirits from the house. Why was the result called a Jack O' Lantern? Tradition says that an Irishman named Jack, too wicked for heaven and expelled from hell for playing practical jokes on the devil, was condemned to walk the earth with a lantern forevermore.

Few people realize that trick-or-treating was originally an adult custom. English country folks went "a-souling" on Halloween, begging for "soul cakes" door to door. In Ireland, hundreds of years ago, groups of farmers went from house to house soliciting food for the village Halloween festivities, promising good luck to cheerful givers and threatening tightwads with evil fortune.

But it was the kids who originated Halloween customs in some regions for children to dress up in each other's clothes (boys donning girls' outfits and vice versa) and go out to play tricks and collect loot.

Our Halloween celebrations today keep many of these early customs unchanged. Young and old still gather to hunt nuts and duck for apples bobbing in a tub of water. Grinning pumpkin jack-o'-lanterns, resting cornstalks, and white-sheeted figures create an air of mystery, and black paper witches and cats are used for party decorations.

Other Halloween traditions are much newer, and one of the most beneficial is the tradition of helping UNICEF at this time of year. In 1971, millions of American students participated in the "Treat of Life" for UNICEF drive, aiding disadvantaged youngsters throughout the world. Their efforts provided UNICEF with more than $135,000 in new funds.
